She said we need to work collaboratively to spread the correct information across different social medias. We will continue to have this problem if we don't work together. People are angry and upset. They are afraid and concerned. They don't know what is going to happen. We need to have all the information to make an informed vote. Selectwoman Eitland asked what is the clear way to get the information. Renee Eldredge suggested using the signage on Route 12, a one call for these two meetings.
