Project Summary

We are a designated Community Heart & Soul® project through the Orton Family Foundation, whose partnership has provided our leadership team and volunteers with the training, materials, and resources necessary to conduct this proven method of community engagement.

The Winchendon Community Heart & Soul Project (WCHSP) is a limited-term project comprised of Winchendon residents who believe that residents' voices are the key to creating a Winchendon we can be proud to call home. Our mission is to encourage resident engagement and community pride by focusing on the themes in our community that unite us and highlighting them through a campaign of storytelling and resident-driven visioning. The primary goal of this project was to complete a two-year, town-wide visioning survey and produce an action plan based on the stories of what residents love about Winchendon. The goal of drafting a resident-envisioned, community action plan that highlights the hopes, concerns, and ideas of the diverse voices within our community has begun with this document and will continue with the dedication of the Winchendon residents.

As a designated Community Heart & Soul® community project, WCHSP used the Orton Family Foundation's Community Heart & Soul® model for community engagement. Our partners and collaborators' training, resources, and assistance allowed us to meet our goal successfully. This action plan would not exist without the conversations and story gathering across all resident groups. Using the rich data these stories held, with the help of community volunteers, the project created our Heart & Soul Statements, and a template of possible community value statements centered on what residents value about Winchendon. The Heart and Soul Statements highlight what we agree makes Winchendon a special place to live, work, and play. They are hopeful by design, addressing how residents would like to see change come to the community and decisions made on their behalf in a way that honors what we love here.

This Winchendon CHS Resident-Envisioned Community Action Plan is the culmination of the project's work through Phases 1 through 3 of the Community Heart & Soul® model. This plan is intended to amplify resident hopes, concerns, ideas, and calls to action by empowering residents to act on their values, match resident ideas with area stakeholders, and seek the funding necessary to implement these projects. Additionally, we intend for this plan to gain consideration for adoption as a Winchendon-specific supplemental resource to the Winchendon Master Plan. We are proud to also be in the position to share all the data we gathered of resident Values, Hopes, Concerns, and Ideas publicly through a Google Sheets document that can aid in future research, decision-making, and implementation efforts.

We hope that the process of working toward has accomplished our secondary goals:

1. Encourages residents to re-engage and own our communities by taking part in the decision-making process.
2. Rebuild trust through activities meant to make residents feel heard, in hopes we see attendance increase at decision-maker meetings and increases in volunteer opportunities for all residents.
3. Encourages new voices to create and implement channels for change that highlight residents' values.

Background

A little bit about Heart & Soul

- Community Heart and Soul is a resident-driven approach to community development and planning, founded on the belief that the best decisions are made when everyone has a voice and when the unique character of a town is taken into consideration. The initiative seeks to harness the power and passion of residents in determining the future of their communities.

Philosophy

At its core, Community Heart and Soul is about:

- Engaging Everyone: Prioritizing inclusivity and ensuring that every voice, especially those often marginalized, is heard.
- Discovering What Matters Most: Through various engagement methods, the process determines the unique characteristics and values that define a community.
- Making Decisions Informed by These Values: Community planning and development decisions are guided by the discovered values, ensuring they resonate with what the community cherishes most.

Methodology

Community Heart and Soul follows a structured method to community planning:

- Lay the Groundwork: Initiating the project, building the team, and preparing the community for engagement.
- Explore the Community: Gathering stories and insights from community members to understand shared values and aspirations.
- Make Decisions: Using the collected information to inform community planning and development decisions.
- Take Action: Implementing decisions to ensure they align with community values and are sustainable over the long term.
- Impact: Heart & Soul Statements are officially adopted by town and city councils, incorporated into comprehensive and other plans, and are used to guide future policies and decisions.

By championing resident-driven community development and planning, Community Heart and Soul reinforces the notion that the most resilient and vibrant communities are built on the collective dreams and values of their inhabitants.

The Action Plan

Before any further explanation of our process in creating this Community Action Plan and conducting the study of community values, let us take a moment to explain what a community action plan is, an action plan's purpose, and what this plan can accomplish.

What Is A Community Action Plan?

A Community Action Plan serves as a strategic blueprint for enacting positive change within a community. It outlines the objectives the community aims to achieve, delineates the specific actions needed to reach these goals within a set timeframe, and identifies the resources — including funding, manpower, and materials — necessary for successful implementation. This plan is a comprehensive approach to addressing community needs, setting clear directions, and mobilizing resources to bring about desired outcomes.

What Is Its Purpose?

- This plan identifies a list of action items envisioned by those who live, work, and play in Winchendon and proven to be community-supported.
- This plan shows action items necessary to create the kind of change that residents support while honoring our shared values and preserving or improving upon the assets within our town.
- This plan highlights resident ideas that can help execute the tasks outlined on the Winchendon Master Plan.
- This document will function as a valuable resource for Winchendon residents, enabling them to pursue additional grant opportunities that align with their aspirations and projects they are deeply passionate about.

What Can It Do?

Inform Policy Development

- Local Elected Officials can adopt to use the value statements as a framework to ensure their decision-making is in line with resident interests through formal Resolution

Assist Community Initiative Planning

- Community Value Statements can be used as a tool that non-profit and local agencies can use to understand the resident sentiment.
- Story and Visioning Data collected can be used to supplement informational needs in strategic planning.
- Action Items could be integrated into programming.

Support Funding Opportunities

- Action items included in this plan prove community backing – alleviating the need to conduct singular community-wide study/focus groups for specific community development grants funded through state and federal government agencies.

Story and Visioning data can be used to supplement informational needs in grant writing, business plan development, and loan application.
